DRILLING & BLASTING

Holes are drilled in key locations in the quarry/pit and filled with explosives. The blast breaks up the rocks into smaller pieces which are then loaded and hauled to the first crusher.

1

HAULING OR LOADING

Depending on the location (quarry/pit) our process will haul or load the broken rocks and transport them to our processing station/plant.

2

CRUSHING & CONVEYING

At the first crusher, the rocks are crushed between 1,4 cm. Then the stock is pushed and loaded into a 2nd crusher which then uploads the rocks onto a conveyor that screens the rock and allows us to produce various different sizes of rock products depending on our clients request.

3

STOCKPILING

Our production, depending on orders/projects, is then stored in various stockpiles. Each stockpile represents a different rock size.

4

LOADING & WEIGHING

Then our clients truck arrive and we load them with their desired rock type. Before leaving truck pass on a weigh bridge which calculates how much stock is on that specific truck.

5

TICKETING

Once the truck passes over the weigh bridge/scale, the driver goes to the office and collects a ticket from one of our officers and is then allowed to proceed to deliver his load to his site.
